Making Your Perfect Day

My aim is to help you make your Wedding into a perfect, memorable occasion with a Ceremony amongst family and friends which is:

- ❖ personal to you and your partner
- ❖ based on your shared values
- ❖ enshrined in your respective beliefs
- ❖ held at your own chosen venue
- ❖ memorable forever

Going Through the Process - Together

In order to make the day both personal and memorable, we go through a process together which allows me to understand you, your beliefs and your desires – both for the day and for your life together. This process has a number of stages which culminate in the blessing of your union, with a Ceremony that you have created with and through me.

1. Introductory Meeting (no charge) 1-2 hours

To discuss your ideas and to meet each other

2. You contact me to let me know if you'd like to proceed

3. I send you a questionnaire which gives me all the background information on how you met, about yourself, your relationship with each other, your hopes and dreams for your life together, what you hold sacred, your beliefs, etc and a Form to be filled in with details of venue, date, time, contact details, etc

4. I write the first draft of your Ceremony based on our meeting and the responses that I receive from the questionnaires and send this to you.

5. You read this through and see how it feels and from thereon we liaise via email and phone as we finetune the Ceremony so that it resonates with your deepest thoughts and feelings.

6. We may meet once or twice more if distance allows.

7. If feasible – I like to visit the venue beforehand to get a feel for the place, so that when I write, I know how it will feel and work with the surroundings that you have chosen.

8. We have address rehearsal the day before which you will organise with the co-ordinator at the venue (they are used to this!). I take you through each part of the Ceremony – the entrance, where you will stand/sit/face, the words I and you will say, any rituals that you may have chosen – and generally put you at ease and ready for your big day!

9. I arrive about an hour before the Ceremony to make sure that all is in place and that you are happy and relaxed
